Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 4, 5 and 7-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by The Japanese Patent No. JP02000037250A to Hasegawa. Hasegawa discloses a support comprising a support platform (6, 7), at least one leg (4) supporting the support platform above a support surface and a serrated edge (2) extending downwardly and outwardly from the support platform toward the support surface (Figures 1, 3 and 4). To the support of Hasegawa is inherently capable of supporting a lid. As to claim 5, the support platform comprises a grasping member (a surface of the support platform) and the serrated edge of the support of Hasegawa is inherently capable of being used as a cutting implement. As to claim 8, Hasegawa discloses at least one leg (4) supporting the support platform includes the serrated edge and at least two platform support legs (Figure 4) extending downwardly from the support platform. As to claim 9, the support of Hasegawa is inherently capable to be intimately stacked for efficient storage.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 6 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over The Japanese Patent No. JP02000037250A to Hasegawa in view of Liang (5,778,800). Hasegawa discloses the support as above having all the limitations of the claims except for the grasping member being a hole in the support platform. Liang shows a support comprising a support platform (10, 11) having a grasping member and the grasping member is a hole (16). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art in view of Liang to modify the support platform of Hasegawa so the grasping member comprises a hole to facilitate grasping. The support platform of Liang is capable to be intimately stacked for efficient storage (Figure 6).

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claim 3 is allowed.

6. Claim 10 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to 12/1/2005 have been considered but are deemed to be moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

Art Unit: 3728

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a).

Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
